[1] The term "members" includes all regular and associate Exchange members, and member firms, general, special and limited partners in member firms, and voting and non-voting stockholders in member corporations.

[2] On the American Stock Exchange, all odd-lot transactions are handled by specialists, and their round-lot purchases and sales for odd-lot account are not segregated from their other round-lot transactions. In odd-lot transactions, customers' purchases are specialists' sales and customers' sales are specialists' purchases.

TOTAL ASSETS AND COMMON STOCKHOLDINGS OF INSTITUTIONAL INVESTORS, 1955 - 1972

The table listing total assets and common stockholdings (market value) for various institutional investors is presented for the first time in this issue of the Securities and Exchange Commission Statistical Bulletin. This new series covers all the institutional investors appearing in the annual table, Stockholdings of Institutional Investors and Others, last published in the May 30, 1973 issue of the Statistical Bulletin. Please note that all stockholdings, both common and preferred, were included in the May 30 computations; the current table includes only common stockholdings.

The table is designed primarily to aid those interested in the background information on institutional investors and the stock market. No attempt has been made to aggregate either the assets or the common stockholdings of these institutional investors or to compare the percentages of total assets invested in common stock. It is anticipated that this series will appear in the Statistical Bulletin annually as updated figures become available.
